We will ask about the following characteristics of your shipment:

- Origin and destination addresses
- Packaged weight and product description
- Number and type of units (skids, boxes, loose items)
- Freight class or shipping dimensions
- Any special services or shipping requirements that may be needed

Accessorial services

Some large freight shipments require extra care. Below are some of the most common services provided. Note that these may affect your costs.

Service	Description
Expedited shipping	A service that allows a shipment to be transported from origin to destination in the quickest way possible. Optional and is not cost effective.
Freeze protection	A fee assessed when the goods being shipped need to be protected from freezing. Optional depending on geographical location and season.
HazMat	A fee assessed to transport a hazardous material shipment. Assessed depending on the commodity of the product.
Inside pickup/delivery	A fee assessed for moving shipments on behalf of shipper or receiver beyond the area immediately adjacent to unloading positions. Optional depending on product specifications and/or location.
Installation/debris removal	A service that allows for minor installation of items purchased by the customer, as well as removal of debris such as packaging material. Optional depending on product specifications.
Liftgate pickup/delivery	A fee assessed when shipper or receiver requests a lifting or lowering device for loading or unloading purposes. May be required depending on product specifications and/or location.
Limited access	A fee assessed when picking up from locations that have limited access and can include: construction sites, storage facilities, tradeshow facilities, small hospitals, surgery centers, and laboratories. May be required depending on product specifications and/or location.
Notification/delivery appointment	A fee assessed when the carrier is required to contact the consignee in advance of delivery. Optional depending on location.
